21 July 2023

Communities of Faith, Hope and Love is once more the theme for Queensland's Catholic Education Week, 2023, to be celebrated next week. After working in each of the Bundaberg Catholic schools, I can honestly say I have witnessed faith, hope and love being developed and nurtured in the hearts of young people, across all four communities. The thread that connects each school is a shared Catholic identity underpinned by the 'Jesus Story' which 3B reminded us of this week, through their Courtyard Prayer. However, there's something very uniquely special about our own little piece of Catholic Education and we have so much to celebrate. The following examples jumped out at me over the past week.

Catholic Education Week is nicely wedged between Challenge Cup and Eisteddfod. Two platforms that give our students an opportunity to turn their God given talents into gifts. I was privileged to travel to Yeppoon last week to watch the Challenge Cup Rugby League and Netball Teams play their hearts out. At the opening ceremony Diocesan Director, Ms. Leesa Jeffcoat, challenged teams to 'be humble in winning and gracious in defeat' and both teams rose to the challenge and represented St. Patrick's so well. A big thank you to Matt Plumb, Cristian Zandona, Rachel Medley and Grace Whaleboat who prepared these teams in a manner that assisted these young people to shine, on and off the field/court. Thank you to the parents who travelled away with their children. They were such a supportive group and this was very much acknowledged and appreciated.

This week I have seen individuals slipping out for their Eisteddfod performances and next week our choirs and Instrumental Band will perform on the big stage. We wish them well and look forward to sharing some results in next week's newsletter. Thanks again to Kate Hardisty, Michael Goodall, Bernadette Connolly, Jed Morley and Adrian Brookes who work tirelessly with our musically inclined students.

Happily, students don't have to leave their classrooms to achieve success. I visited Year Three some time ago, when they were first delving in to their TinkerCad projects, an engineering program. Students had to choose an animal and create a scenario, involving a limb amputation. Students then had to draw on recent learning and knowledge to design a prosthetic limb. Last week the prosthetic limbs were realised through the 3D printing process and students fitted these to their chosen animal. I had students proudly share their work. The subject specific vocabulary they used to explain their creation reflected a high level of 21st century learning, but more importantly, they did so with such enthusiasm. Here are a couple of examples to share with you;

Ian C—I enjoyed learning how to design a prosthetic limb using TinkerCad technology. One day I may be able to expand more from my knowledge and use it in my job.

Summer C—I loved designing a prosthetic limb using TinkerCad App, as I love getting my creativity out.

The above mentioned are all examples of how we harness the enthusiasm of our youth and encourage them to develop in a way that enables them to spread love, hope and faith not only in Catholic Education Week, but beyond the school gate as they become great global citizens.

This week we had students from our Catholic schools attend 'NAIDOC on the Grass' at Shalom College. We get the chance to stand in solidarity with our brother and sister schools again this Sunday at the Holy Rosary Church for 5:30pm Mass, which will be led by students, as we celebrate the beginning of Catholic Education Week. It would be wonderful to see as many St. Patrick's families as possible to launch what promises to be a week of celebration across the Diocese.

Parent and Friends Forum and Education

Parents in the modern world are very busy and often stretched across many commitments and committees, as their children grow and develop through their school years. Consequently, P&F committees have had a change in purpose in many schools over the last few years. In looking back through records of meetings at St. Patrick's, I can see that these have occurred irregularly and been attended mainly by current Board members. Our School Board meets regularly, and I have been extremely appreciative of their support. However, in recent surveys, I have seen the topic of the P&F raised. I have enjoyed spending the last 6 months getting to know your children, but I am craving the opportunity to get to know more of their wonderful parents. I would still like to continue a P&F presence in our school, as a platform for interested parents to be able to connect with the school and other parents. I recognise that these meetings must 'value-add' for parents to encourage a higher rate of attendance. At this stage, there will be two proposed opportunities for Parents and Friends over the remainder of this year. Please save the date for the following;

Term 3-Tuesday 15th August 7:00pm–8:30pm—Justin Coulson (Shalom College Performing Arts Precinct)

Many of you would remember Justin from a few years ago and know that he is the Child Psychologist who co-hosts Channel 9's Parental Guidance. Please click on the link to get a sense of the session being delivered around the 'Parenting Revolution'. St.Patrick's | Parents | 15 August 2023

Term 4-Wednesday 11th October 5:30pm–6:30pm—Zones of Regulation (St Patrick's Staffroom)

Come and meet the Principal and new staff members, including Counsellor Anita Katajamaki, who will deliver a session on the Zones of Regulations, adopted and used daily at St Patrick's. You may have heard your children talk about 'spreading the green' or 'not now Mum I am in the yellow zone'? Here's an opportunity to learn more which may help you to use the same language at home. At this session, parents/carers will be provided the opportunity to suggest more topics or areas they'd like considered for 2024.
